Painting the future for emerging educators!

California Teaching Fellows Foundation is a leading non-profit linking pre-service teachers and college-age leaders to work experiences in schools and afterschool programs in our Central Valley and now Sacramento County.

The program was founded in 1999 as a teacher pathway, providing future teachers a first-hand, classroom experience as they work toward their college degree. The impact is two-fold; providing future teachers and leaders with a valued job experience who, in turn, serve over 30,000 K-12 students daily.

With rising tuition costs, increasing costs of living and unending student loan debt, we seek to alleviate the financial stressors for our college students through the Teaching Fellows' scholarship fund. Scholarship recipients are future educators with a passion for impacting our youth in our communities. All proceeds will directly benefit the scholarship fund.

Thank you for investing in the next-generation of educators through your gifts to the California Teaching Fellows Foundation!

For more information, please contact community@ctff.us or 559-343-9155.

Mission

To inspire next-generation leaders with a passion for teaching and learning while impacting the lives of youth.

Vision

Develop teachers and leaders who contribute to positive changes in the lives of students, their schools, and their communities.

Produce diverse teaching professionals who implement innovative, effective teaching strategies.

Fully engage the community in education and supporting future teacher and leaders.
